REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

In submitting our report we would improve the occasion to offer a few general remarks in respect to our common school system.

Most of the teachers employed entered upon their duties well qualified as far as a knowledge of the various branches required to be taught in a common district school are concerned. To have a good school we must have good order; and to be successful, teachers must be energetic, persevering and decided; quick to detect error, and they must have sufficient confidence in themselves to administer rebuke to the largest, as well as the smallest, to the richest, as well as the poorest scholar in school. A great fault exists among some teachers, of punishing the large scholars over the backs of the small ones. This is not right. Administer reproof where it belongs, and avoid using partiality in the school room.

We wish to impress upon the minds of parents and others the great advantage derived from visiting the school, especially at the commencement and at the close. The schools need the assistance of parents and friends; teachers need their sympathy, and scholars need their encouragement. In order to have good and profitable schools, parents must take more interest in them. Our best schools are visited frequently by the parents. This gives a stimulus to the teacher and puts new life into the scholars, for they see and feel that we really are interested. It is an uncommon thing to hear complaints against the teacher from these parents. It generally comes from those who are least interested in the school, and whose children are under no restrictions at home, consequently feel under none when at school.

A teacher has faults; who has not? And parents should be very careful in pointing them out and commenting upon them before their children. Much depends upon the Prudential Committee. They should use some discrimination in selecting teachers for their respective schools. It is not advisable to place a young and inexperienced teacher in a winter school of large boys and girls, when it is known that it requires a teacher of ninety-horse-power energy to manage them.

The office of Prudential Committee is one of responsibility. He should know something about the standing of the school, and what is to be expected of the teacher, and then exercise his judgment in procuring one that will be most likely to come up to those expectations. It is inadvisable to engage an entire stranger, unless he or she can furnish the best of reference as to his or her reputation as a successful teacher. Good teachers will scarcely need to solicit schools out of their own town.

It is said, and truly too, that our common schools are the glory of New Hampshire, and we wish that every man and woman in New Hampshire, and especially in the town of Warner, could say with as much truth, that our school house is the pride of the district. We think some of our districts would stand a little higher in the public estimation, if they would exhibit some feeling, or a little humanity, by banking up and otherwise excluding the cold, so that the room could be made comfortable in a moderately cold day, and by providing suitable out-door appendages. The cost would be comparatively small, and they would thereby save their credit, money, and what is of far more vital consequence, the health of their children,

Of the Text Books used in the schools we think they are the best, and there is no desire for a change. The books recommended by your Committee are as follows: The Bible, Town's Speller and Definer and Progressive Series of Readers—which in our humble opinion are the best extant. Greenleaf's Series of Arithmetics are not excelled, and possess the advantage of being adapted to the youngest as well as the smartest Tyro in school. Brown's Grammars and Colton and Fitches' Geographys are good enough and should be "severely let alone." Quackenbos' History of the United States should be more generally used than it is, in preference to higher mathematics. The Chairman of your Committee having resigned his office, we are unable to report as to the standing of the schools he visited. The Report of the schools under the supervision of the remaining Committee is as follows:

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Ann W. Heath, an accomplished and energetic teacher. Good order was observed, and everything was being done in the right way, and the school seemed to be in a stage of progression. We learn that Miss Heath's labors were highly appreciated by the district, and we see by the register that a goodly number of parents and citizens visited the school. Thus it is evident that they take an interest in the school, and it is earnestly hoped they will furnish a better house before long.

Winter Term was taught by Mr. Charles F. Hardy of Hopkinton, a gentleman of good qualifications and reputation as a teacher. We made two journeys to visit this school, but it was not in session either time. It was only five weeks long, consequently the improvement could not be great.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Summer Term taught by Miss Straw of Hopkinton. Mr. Huntingdon visited the school.

Winter Term commenced by Miss Scribner of Franklin, who not possessing sufficient energy to govern the school, was finally dismissed by the district. Here we see the evil of employing strangers, of whose reputation as teachers we know nothing. The term was finished by Miss Straw, teacher of the summer term. She is an experienced teacher, and appears to understand her vocation. She can look off her book and not lose her place, and seems to reign supreme in the school room. We hope her labors will be appreciated by the district.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Summer and Winter Terms were taught by Miss Lucy J. Andrews of Sutton. Mr. Huntingdon visited the Summer Term. We made but one visit during the winter term, which was very satisfactory. Miss Andrews is a thorough and good teacher. Good order was maintained and good improvement made. We were happy to meet quite a number of the parents at the examination, and the approbation they expressed in respect to the school and teacher, must have been highly flattering to her and encouraging to the scholars. Miss Olive Wheeler is worthy of mention as excelling in all the branches studied.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Jones, of Bradford. The school appeared well at our visit. We understand that good order was maintained through the school, and the modest bearing of Miss Jones could but exert a good influence over her scholars.

Winter Term taught by Miss Fannie A. Scribner, of Salisbury; a smart, energetic teacher, and we were in hopes the school would be one of profit. We made a journey to visit it the second time, but found it closed. The Prudential Committee informs us, however, that the school was not what it should be.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Summer and Fall Terms were taught by Miss Nancy W. Hazen of Sutton, an amiable and desirable teacher. She maintained good order by gaining the good will of her scholars. The examination was creditable to both scholars and teacher. In this school Miss Abbie M. Sargent ranks high as a thorough scholar.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Lizzie C. Sargent of Nashua, formerly of Warner. This was Miss Sargent's first attempt at school teaching. Modest, social and unassuming, she could not fail, we think, at the outset, to create in the minds of her scholars those warm and confiding sentiments of friendship and regard which add so much to the success of a school. The examination was highly satisfactory to your committee.

Winter Term was taught by Miss Mattie A. Clough. We entertain none but the kindest feelings toward Miss Clough. She is amiable in disposition and a good scholar, and we believe it would cause her pain to rebuke, and more to inflict corporeal punishment upon a scholar. It is but natural that this feeling should sometimes get control of our better judgment, and allow errors to creep in, small at first, but waxing, almost imperceptibly, until they overwhelm us, and we find it difficult to extricate ourselves from the meshes in which they have entangled us. In the first place this is too hard a school for any one of Miss Clough's experience, and the Prudential Committee, knowing that it required a teacher of indomitable perseverance and will to govern it, should share a part of the censure for the unsuccessfulness of the school. If there is no other remedy, we advise the district to furnish a few hundred feet of pine for whittling purposes; for if the scholars must indulge in this "Yankee propensity," it would be cheaper in the long run than to furnish school houses. We should think those young men and women would be ashamed to have it known who occupied those seats the past winter. In future we hope the district will procure teachers that will

"Harness you down with iron bands,
Be sure of their curb and rein,
For you scorn the power of puny hands,
As a tempest scorns a chain."

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Fall Term taught by Miss Margaret Harriman, and visited by Mr. Huntingdon. Miss H. is a good scholar, and we presume gave good satisfaction, as we have heard no complaint from the district.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Summer Term taught by Miss Margaret Harriman. The school was visited by Mr. Huntingdon.

Winter Term taught by Miss Frances L. Stanyan, of Pembroke. She is a young teacher, and without any experience. A decided improvement was made in reading and spelling; other branches not so thoroughly taught. This school requires an experienced and thorough teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Summer and Winter Terms taught by Miss Achsa L. Cheney, of Bradford. This is an interesting little school. We think it was never in a more prosperous condition than at the present time. If the district could agree to build a new school house, it would add much to the aspect of the school, as well as comfort and convenience of the scholars.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

There was no Summer Term in this district. Winter Term taught by Miss Louisa C. Dowlin. This is quite a small school, only six scholars attending on an average. Miss Dowlin's manner of teaching was systematic and thorough. She labored faithfully, and the scholars made very good improvement under her tuition.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

Summer Term was taught by Marietta L. Couch, of Warner. Miss C. is a good teacher. Good order was preserved, and the scholars made good improvement in the several branches studied.

Winter Term was under the instruction of Miss Sarah J. Nichols, of Bradford, who brought some one hundred months' experience with her. Complete order was maintained by the mildest means. She more than sustained her former good reputation as a teacher, and it must be gratifying to her to know that her labors are appreciated by every one in the district.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Mirah H. Stetson. This was her first school, and we were much pleased with her management; prompt to detect errors and correct them. Her womanly bearing in the school room gained the esteem and confidence of the scholars. Good improvement was made.

Winter Term was taught by Miss Ann W. Heath. We made a journey to visit it towards its close, but found it not in session, and we can do no better than to quote the teacher's remarks. She says: "That this school, though small in numbers, is characterized by a persevering energy, which renders it second to none in what constitutes a good school. Each scholar appears to have a realizing sense of what schools are intended for, and is anxious to improve every opportunity for advancement. This, with the hearty cooperation of the parents in the district, who also seem to understand the importance of punctual attendance, makes this school one of the most pleasant with which it has been my good fortune to be connected."

DISTRICT NO. 13.

LOWER DEPARTMENT.—Both Terms were taught by Miss Hannah M. George. As a disciplinarian we believe Miss George has few equals. Everything was done with the regularity of clock work. Some few parents found a little fault with the teacher during the summer term, for being too strict. But we honestly and truly believe they had better reasons for thanking her. We have been an every-day observer of the teacher and her little flock during the winter term, and we have ever observed the kindest feeling between them. At our final visit we were much gratified with the promptness of the recitations and the class drill. Every one was actuated by a spirit of emulation. The answers were prompt and distinct. We consider Miss George a first class teacher, and have the opinion of the County Commissioner to back up the assertion.

HIGHER DEPARTMENT.—Summer Term was taught by Miss Rhoda B. Thompson, and visited by Mr. Huntington. Miss Thompson is an experienced teacher, and we trust the school was a success; at least we have heard nothing to the contrary.

The Winter Term was taught by S. C. Pattee, one of your Committee, and with what success we leave it for others to judge. I, as the teacher, would say, however, that I endeavored to do my duty, and I believe that most of the scholars made good proficiency in their studies. There have been but few cases of irregular attendance, and but comparatively few instances of tardiness. Every scholar has treated me with the utmost respect. There are quite a number of good scholars in this school. We consider the third class in Common School Arithmetic very promising. As a thorough, energetic scholar, Miss Addie B. George stands pre-eminent.

DISTRICT NO. 15.

But one term, in the Fall, taught by Mrs. Sarah J. Baker of Sutton, who has had some seventy months' experience in teaching the "young idea how to shoot." She was just the teacher for the school. The fact is, it wanted waking up, and it required a wide-awake, energetic teacher, to do it. These qualities were possessed by Mrs. Baker. The school appeared first rate at the time of our visit. A storm prevented our visiting it at the close; but we understand the parents are highly gratified with the success of the school.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Lucretia Davis, of Warner. Miss Davis is a thorough teacher, of considerable experience. We were pleased to observe the particular attention paid to reading; a clear and distinct enunciation and correct pronunciation was required. No error, however small, was permitted to pass unnoticed. Good improvement was made.

Winter Term was taught by Miss Daniels, of Hopkinton, an accomplished teacher. She pursued a thorough course of instruction, and the examination was highly gratifying to your Committee. This is one of the prettiest schools in town, and we always visit it with pleasure.

DISTRICT NO. 17.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Jennie S. Bartlett, who is well known as an experienced teacher. The various branches were thoroughly taught, and the progress of the school was satisfactory.

Winter Term taught by Mr. B. Frank Peasley. The object of the teacher evidently seemed to be in so conducting the school as to make it pleasant and profitable to all connected with it. There are several very good scholars in this school, who may, with a few more terms of persevering study, become well qualified to teach; while there are others who are rather backward and do not manifest so much interest as they ought—such should be encouraged and helped to obtain a good education by their parents and guardians.

DISTRICT NO. 18.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Mary P. Johnson, a young and inexperienced teacher. The school appeared quiet and studious.

Winter Term was taught by Miss Jennie S. Bartlett. As we have expressly spoken of this teacher, a repetition would be superfluous. In mental arithmetic this school stands high. Good improvement was made in the several studies pursued.

DISTRICT NO. 19.

Summer Term was taught by Miss Marcia A. Stevens. The school was visited by Mr. Huntingdon. We hear no complaint, therefore presume Miss Stevens gave good satisfaction.

Winter Term taught by Mr. Ephraim P. Goss of Henniker. This is his second term in this district. His manner of teaching is systematic and thorough, as far as we were able to judge. He seemed to govern the school by gaining the love and good will of the scholars.

DISTRICT NO. 20.

Summer and Winter Terms were taught by Miss Sarah J. Nichols of Bradford, of whom we have spoken before. The school is small but interesting, and we trust it made improvement both terms.

DISTRICT NO. 21.

There was no Summer School in this district. Winter Term was taught by Miss Abbie E. Collins, and finished by a Miss Woodbury. As we were not notified at the close of the school, we made but one visit, therefore we are unable to report the progress made. No register returned.

DISTRICT NO. 22.

Both Summer and Winter Terms were taught by Miss Frank P. Reddington. With a little more experience she will make a good teacher. Good order is one point which she means her scholars shall observe. No school can be successfully taught without it. None but the lower branches were studied in this school. Good improvement was made.

Districts No. 23 and 24. No registers have been returned.

Respectfully submitted,

S. C. PATTEE, } S. S. Committee
L. W. COLLINS, } of Warner.
